THE RICHMOND DISASTER. APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE.

TWO HUNDRED PERSONS KILLED AND WOUNDED.

RICHMOND, Va., April 28.—The crowd drawn to the Court of Appeals room to hear the discussion of the Mayoralty question numbered fully four hundred persons.

The floor gave way about 11 o'clock, suddenly precipitating its great load of humanity some thirty feet to the floor below, and bringing down upon them the debris of the partition walls.

The news of the terrible disaster spread rapidly, and in a few minutes as many as 3,000 persons had gathered about the building.

The excitement was most intense, the groans of the wounded and dying, wedged in among the timbers most heart-rending; but it seemed impossible to extend immediate relief.

Many escaped by clinging to the windows, as the floor went down.

The loss of life is appalling. Fifty-eight dead bodies have been taken out of the wreck, and one hundred and twenty-three persons, more or less seriously wounded.

Among the killed are P. H. Aylett, a distinguished lawyer, Dr. J. B. Brock, reporter of the Enquirer and Examiner; Samuel G. Eaton, clerk to Mayor Cahoon; Capt. Wm. A. Charters, chief of the fire department; N. P. Howard, lawyer; Ash. Levy, a Richmond merchant; Charles Watson, of the Danville railroad; Hugh Hathings, and Laywell Wolf, of this city; Mr. Schofield, a brother of Gen. Schofield; R. M. Maury, Senator from Colorado; and Powhatan Roberts. It is supposed that 20 members of the state legislature are killed and wounded.

The judges of the court of appeals all escaped unhurt. The greatest excitement prevailed. Hundreds of persons are on the capital square weeping and wailing as the dead and dying are brought from the building.

Gov. Walker escaped unhurt, though on the court-room floor at the time.

The park was filled with weeping women and excited men until 2 o'clock when the last victim was taken from the ruins.

A gloom settled over the whole city; all business houses were closed, and business of all kinds suspended. Meetings are being held tonight, and thousands of citizens are in attendance. The great disaster is the all-absorbing topic in every circle. The city, in fact, is as a house of mourning.
